

Difference between LibreOffice and Microsoft Office

LibreOffice	MS Office
1. LibreOffice is a free and open source office suite (Program).	1. MS Office is a proprietary office suite (Program).
2. The default office program of Linux/Ubuntu.	2. The default office program of Microsoft windows.
3. That consist the menu basis options and toolbars.	3. That consist the ribbon basis options and also tabular based.
4. LibreOffice (.odf) saving and exporting the files directly to another file format (like-pdf, epub, html document etc.)	4. MS Office saving files into some formats.
5. LibreOffice has more newly updated features such digital signature, more worksheet & workbook, many number of charts etc.	5. Microsoft Office has more newly updated features after that you buying the program.

OnWeb Sharma G

Packages & File Name

LibreOffice	MS Office
LibreOffice Writer(Document)	MS Word(Document)
LibreOffice Calc(Workbook)	MS Excel(Workbook)
LibreOffice Impress(Presentation)	MS PowerPoint(Presentation)
LibreOffice Draw(Graphics)	MS Paint(Graphics),MS Visio(Graphics)
LibreOffice Math(Formula)	MS Math Input Panel(Formula)
LibreOffice Base(Database)	MS Access(Database)

Extension Name

LibreOffice Writer (.odt)	MS Word (.docx)
LibreOffice Calc (.ods)	MS Excel (.xlsx)
LibreOffice Impress (.odp)	MS PowerPoint (.pptx)
LibreOffice Draw (.odg)	MS Paint(.bmp)
LibreOffice Math(no extension)	MS Math Input Formula(no extension)
LibreOffice Base(.odb)	MS Access (.accdb)

Default File Name

LibreOffice Writer, Calc, Impress, Draw, Base, Math Formula(all default file name is Untitled1)

MSWord (Document1)

MS Excel (Workbook1)

MS PowerPoint(Presentation1)

MS Paint (Untitled1)

MS Math Input Panel (None)

MS Access (Database1)